Directions

The walk starts and finishes at Cheddar Reservoir car park off Sharpham Road in Cheddar. However the walk can equally be started from the Axbridge side of the reservoir. A linked walk has also been included for those who wish to start the walk from Cheddar village itself.

For those wishing to walk from the centre of Cheddar village it is a simple and safe 15 minute connecting walk.

1. From the centre of the village (Post Office) take the pavement west out of the village towards Weston-Super-Mare along the A371.

2. After 400 yards you will reach the War memorial where you need to bear left down Station Road (marked B3151 towards Wedmore). Continue past the turn for the Kings of Wessex Leisure centre on your left and then cross the main road to enter the road for Valley Line industrial estate. This is also the start of the National Cycle route 26 - the Strawberry line.

3. Follow the pavement through the industrial estate to the end to join the cycle path which runs besides Travis Parkins builders merchants. Follow the path until you go under a lovely old stone railway bridge (Fiveways bridge).

4. Immediately after the bridge turn left up a ramp to join Sharpham Road. Turn right on Sharpham Road and follow the road until you come to the main double metal gates of the reservoir straight ahead. Do not turn left down the track or right into Sharpham Road playing fields. The access road straight ahead leads to the free car park and the start of the reservoir circular walk.

5. From the reservoir car park access is through a large kissing gate which should be large enough to accommodate most wheelchairs, pushchairs and bicycles. There is also a wide wooden stile. A wide tarmac path leads up a short incline to the top of banks of the reservoir itself.
There is a choice of either walking clockwise or anti-clockwise. The clockwise section starts with another wide gate to your left and the anti-clockwise starts past the pumping station to your right. Half of the route (clockwise) is a wide level stone chipped path whilst the anti-clockwise half is a wide tarmac path. Both halves of the walk are joined by a wide gate on the Axbridge side of the reservoir.

Starting the walk clockwise (left) Crooks Peak can be seen in the distance slightly off to the right. After a while Nyland hill can be seen off to your left and on a reasonably clear day Glastonbury Tor can be seen in the distance again also off to the left. Views behind offer a great perspective of Cheddar Gorge. Further around views of the Somerset levels can be obtained off to your left as well as Brent Knoll off to the South West.

The banks of the reservoir are populated by free roaming sheep so if you have a dog please keep under control and on a lead when in the vicinity of livestock.

The reservoir is extremely popular with bird watchers due to the varied migratory wildfowl that visit. There are resident swans, ducks and cormorants can also be often seen drying their wings whilst perched on the sailing club buoys. Large flocks of coots can be seen in the winter as well as Grebes in the spring.

Follow the path around and pass the Bristol water pump house at which point good views of the Axbridge area can be obtained again off to the left. Join the tarmac part of the path through another wide gate just above the Axbridge entrance (and car park).

Continuing around the tarmac path you pass the Bristol Corinthians Yacht clubhouse and then Sharpham Road sports field on your left. Continue until you reach the pump house which marked the start of your walk.
